

WHAT IS CIRRUS CHANGE READINESS?

Cirrus Change is a change-readiness platform that reduces organizational change risks.

We provide a data-driven, customized path for leaders, including education, analysis and actionable recommendations for success.

How Cirrus Change Readiness works:

Through online meetings, cloud-based learning, coaching and a series of evaluations, we:

Prepare leaders

We provide self-paced education, reinforced with tools to implement best practices.

Analyze data

We analyze feedback data, determine the potential areas of risk, and provide tactics for mitigating that risk.

Evaluate staff

Our evaluations analyze feedback from staff to understand their fears, confusion, perceptions, and psychological traits that can impact the success of change projects.

Reinforce use and adoption

We check in with staff post-launch to understand issues with the system. Based on the results, we recommend solutions to encourage long-term adoption.

The problems we solve

Address the biggest risk to ROI: the staff involved in the project.

Help keep projects on track and on budget.

Augment staff agility and create a change-friendly culture.

Amplify the change skills and knowledge of leaders.
